In the triangle below, shade five-ninths of the large triangle so that the part left unshaded is still a triangle.

The square below is made up of four small squares. Can you shade half of it so that the unshaded part is also a square?
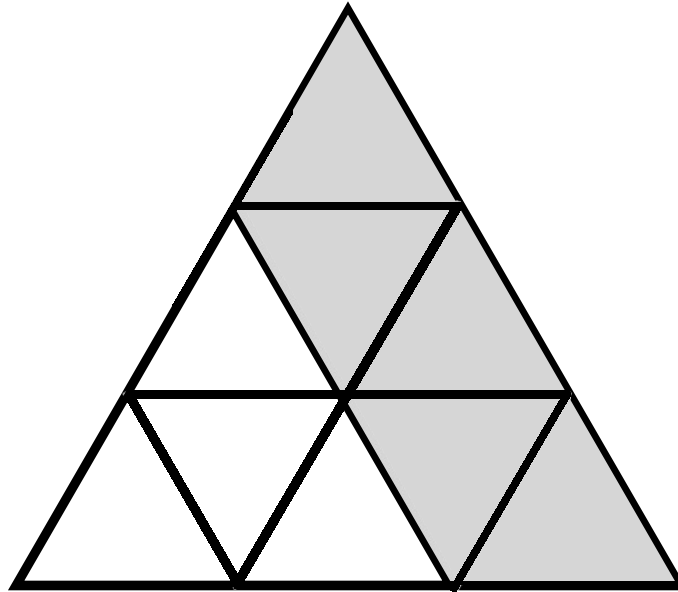

In the triangle below, shade five-ninths of the large triangle so that the part left unshaded is still a triangle.

The square below is made up of four small squares. Can you shade half of it so that the unshaded part is also a square?